

The American College of Physician Executives acknowledges that

Bharat Bhushan

has participated in Physician in Management – Quality
on the date of 4/25/2014
Credit was claimed on 6/12/2014

Accreditation: The American College of Physician Executives is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Designation: The American College of Physician Executives designates these educational activities as AMA PRA Category I Credit™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The Participating physician has claimed 7.00 credit hours for this CME activity.

President

Chief Executive Officer